It is with sincere joy and great pleasure that I offer this letter of recommendation for Aagaard-Juergensen. From our initial interviews to receipt of the certificate of occupancy, Aagaard demonstrated great professionalism and aptitude for construction. Thank you for delivering a beautiful building, well designed and of excellent quality and workmanship.

We approached Aagaard as a one stop design-build contractor, after experiencing difficulty with previous architects. The design-build model proved most advantageous, given the size of the project, a desire to alter our current architectural plans, and our strong insistence on a guaranteed maximum price.

Aagaard assembled a remarkable team of architects and engineers who took our ideas and methodically designed a facility to suit our purposes. During this initial phase, we met with the contractor and the design team on a number of occasions, all the time reconciling the design, buildability and budget. This was a very successful process.

Randy, we appreciated your presence at all our design meetings, and assigning the project over to Carl Specht (Project Manager) and Chad Kalins (Project Superintendent). As both the owner's representative and a member of Cornerstone Baptist Church, I worked very closely with Carl and Chad, and was extremely impressed by their attention to detail and dedication to the job. They were very responsive to requests, sought to mitigate the impact of change orders, and maintained a tight control over all aspects of the project that were under their authority. They served as trustworthy representatives for their employer, Aagaard-Juergensen, and as advocates on our behalf. Chad took ownership of the project and built it as if constructing his own building. He was quick to think on his feet, and provided good alternatives as dilemmas arose.

I highly recommend Aagaard-Juergensen as one well attested by the excellent finished product they have delivered to Cornerstone Baptist Church, and one worthy of consideration. If you desire more information, please call me at (407) 497-6912.

Sincerely,

Thomas G. Mutugi.
