Dear Mr. Brooks:

Thank you so much for the tremendous job your company did in overseeing the renovation and expansion of our Worship Center. When we first approached you about taking this job, we were in a very difficult situation. We had endured two negative encounters with general contractors and did not know where to turn. We owe a great debt of gratitude to Jim Wadley at First Baptist Church of Oviedo for pointing us in your direction. He could not say enough about how pleased they were with the job you did for them. Now that we are in our completed Worship Center, we have joined ranks with First Baptist of Oviedo as members of the Aagaard-Juergesen fan club. Not only would I praise the work that you did for us, I would also urge others to use your company.

Let me summarize what I appreciate most about our experience with your company:

- Every member of your team with whom we worked is a dedicated Christian. This means more than I can say because your team showed a spiritual sensitivity and appreciation for our church's sacred mission, demonstrating respect at all times.
- Our project manager made himself accessible to me and bent over backwards to make sure that I as a pastor was satisfied throughout this project. He went above and beyond the call of duty to fulfill my every request.
- Our superintendent worked long and hard hours, willing to stay late on many days in order to coordinate certain aspects of the job and to meet with the Building Committee chairman.
- I have felt from the outset of our relationship that your company was an advocate for our church. You have demonstrated this by seeking the best pricing through competitive bidding, advising us in matters of decision-making about which we knew very little, insisting on quality work from the sub-contractors, and always showing sensitivity to our budgetary constraints. One of the most crucial areas of your advocacy was made clear to me in the final days when we were approaching completion. Our city codes are tough and so are the inspectors. I believe that we sailed through all of our final inspections for occupancy because our superintendent had maintained such a positive and attentive relationship with the city in our behalf.

These are but a few of the reasons I could cite as to why we are so thankful God led us to you. We are rejoicing in our new Worship Center, and we praise the Lord for using Aagaard-Juergesen to make it a reality.

Gratefully,

Anthony George
Pastor
